

Brisbane 14–24°C

Kahli Scott of Sandgate tries out her app Story City. Picture: Richard Walker

North

Sandgate: New app lets you choose your own adventure through suburban streets

Lara Lauth, Quest Newspapers
December 28, 2015 12:00am

THE streets of Sandgate are the stars of a new app designed to choose-your-own-adventure-style tales to life.

Sandgate's Kahli Scott and Thorneside's Emily Craven launched their of the Story City app just in time for the school holidays.

"Most people are familiar with the concept of a 'choose-your-own--adventure' story where you, as the reader, can make decisions through story that lead to different endings," Ms Scott said.

"With the Story City app, the stories are based in real locations using that instead of turning pages, you actually walk to new locations to un each scene. Each story is accompanied in the app by music, art and vc audio for a full sensory experience."

Ms Scott wrote the story for the Sandgate-based story, the Curse of th Bramble Spirit, while other authors penned stories featuring the stree Woolloongabba and Dutton Park.

"The great thing about Story City is that there are multiple stories ava on the app and each story is suitable for a different audience," she sai

You can download the free app from storycity.com.au and run through stories on your own or join group outings starting at Boggo Rd Jail in Park at 10.30am on Friday or starting at the cafe precinct cul-de-sac i Logan Rd, Woolloongabba, at 10.30am on Saturday.

ALL

NEWS

SPORT

COMPS

DIGITAL EDITIONS

CLASSIFIEDS

REAL ESTATE

PHOTOS

SEARCH